Board Approves Budget

In the absence of Monterey Unified School District Board of Education president, Mary Lou Stutzman, Mr. Lonnie Ayers presided over the recent board meeting.

The first action of the board was the discussion of the MPUSD budget for the 1971-72 school year. After an explanation by board member Allan J. Petersdorf of why the final budget was $2,302,83 less than the publication budget, the board approved the measure.

After approval of the budget, Ayers called for suggestions and comments from visitors.

Frank Lefer, chairman of the Advisory Board of Learning Committee to the Alternative School, proceeded with a strong statement of support in favor of the concept of the Alternative School.

Leker noted that his two sons attended the school during the summer and he thanked the board on behalf of himself and other parents for the richly rewarding experience afforded their children.

He said the school had received many visitors from the area which indicated community involvement. There were also a number of outside consultant visitations including representatives from the University of California at Santa Cruz.

Leker noted however that the although the program, which is less regimented than the regular school concept, is not for every student and his parents, the program is highly successful for those who benefit from it.

In other action, a request of a proposal by the Certificated Employees Council, representative group of the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District teaching staff, in regard to teacher benefits and specifications for salary and program improvement, was re-introduced and accepted by the Board of Education.

The proposal was previously ly tabled because the Board felt some minor changes would be necessary before mutual agreement could be realized.

The proposal as passed stipulates health and welfare benefits to teachers provided by the Board of Education, as well as procedures which will be utilized in considering later salary and program improvements in the district.

Reception For Camacho Tomorrow

Tomorrow night (Friday), Julian Camacho, who recently quit as a member of the Santa Cruz County draft board will be the honored guest at a reception to be held at the home of Mattie Blakeney. The affair will begin at 8 p.m.

Camacho's reason for coming to Seaside is to explore the possibilities of running for Congress against Representative Burt Talcott. He will meet with community leaders and hopes to see as many voters from the city as possible.

Camacho resigned from the draft board because of his opposition to the war in South Asia.

On May 10, 1971, he issued the following statement to announce his resignation.

"I am moved today to make a protest against the war in Indochina, not only as an American citizen, not only as a minority American, but also as a member of an agency which provides manpower for the most unjust war in American history.

"After consultation with my family and friends--and most importantly, as an act of conscience--I have decided to resign from Local Draft Board No. 59, Santa Cruz County, effective immediately.

"Military conscription has no place in a free society. When a young man is forced to enslave his life to the possibility of death, who among us is freer for it?"

"As an American citizen, I do not feel free when I know that more than ten times as many Americans have died in Indochina than were killed in the Revolutionary War.

"As a minority American, I do not feel free when I know that a disproportionate number of black and brown men have died in Indochina for nothing.

"But above all, as a human being, I do not feel free when I know that we have made an alliance with death as a solution to the problems of life.

"The only solution to war is peace. We must repeal the draft. We must stop the war."

Early Birds Are in For Surprise at Fair

It will be orchids to early-bird fair goes from Monterey County Fair.

Orchids are just one of the gifts the flower-themed Monterey County Fair is presenting to its early-day women visitors every day of the five-day fair.

Fair Manager George Wise plans to present 50 vanda orchids, flown to Monterey direct from Hawaii via United Airlines, to the first 50 women who enter the fairgrounds by the main gate through Sunday.

It's a flower fair in Monterey in 1971. A spray of mixed blossoms adorns the colorful fair posters. A pair of perfect rosebuds graces the front cover of the premium list.

And flowers by the hundreds bloom in pots along the central walks of the fairgrounds, edge the exhibit buildings and even nod in flower boxes under the eaves of the central building.

Beds of flame-colored roses, the new "Jazz Fest", a gift of Armstrong Nurseries of Ontario, California, highlight the entrances of the Monterey fairgrounds.

Special lighting continues the illusion at night, when the entire fairgrounds resembles a giant bouquet.

Those attending the first meeting included representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Social Concern Commission of Saint Mary's By-The-Sea Episcopal Church and the Salvation Army.

Search Is On Again Post Office Location Is Definite

After ten months without a permanent city attorney, Seaside has resumed its search for a replacement for Saul Weingarten, who was fired from that post last October 3.

According to Milton Farrell, the city is advertising in a number of publications and hopes to attract a field of qualified applicants for the position.

Farrell also pointed out that the post is a half-time job for which the attorney is expected to supply his own office space and staff. Under the agreement, the attorney would also receive compensation for time spent in court.

The search for a new city attorney was necessitated when Weingarten was fired by a 4-1 vote of the city council. He was dismissed "without cause" when the council heard that he had filed incorporation papers for the Seaside Citizens for Good Government, who wished to recall four of the council members. Three of the four--Pearl Carey, Gerald McGrath, and Oliver Murray--were defeated in the June 23 recall election. Only Steve Ross survived.

Since Weingarten's dismissal, the city has had a number of interim attorneys. Myron Haas of Monterey now holds this temporary position.

The last attempt to find a successor of Weingarten failed. Last winter, out of around 35 applicants, only two, who were acceptable, showed up for the interview. Both indicated at that time that they were no longer interested in the position.

The new Seaside city post office must be located at the northwest corner of Terrace Street and Broadway, the city council learned at their recent meeting.

The Army Corps of Engineers informed the council by letter that the funds had already been allocated for that location.

In the letter, Warren K. Branscum, acting chief of the Corps of Engineers' real estate branch, which handles land purchases for the Postal Service, informed the council that formal steps for the acquisition of the site will begin in the next few days. Hopefully, the purchase will be completed in a short time.

Discussion of the site of the Post Office was reopened when Mayor Lou Haddad scheduled a study session of the new council before he left for Europe, where he is vacationing. While the Broadway-Terrace site was favored by the recalled city council members, Haddad and a number of other city officials preferred sites in the Echo Avenue area.

In other action at the last meeting, the council agreed to increase their allocation to the chamber of commerce on a six-month trial basis.

The council gave approval to a chamber request of a $1,000 monthly allocation. The chamber hopes to broaden the city tax base, revitalize the sick business community and increase their own ranks with the money.

To reach these goals, the chamber is planning to contract with the Dick Bragg Agency of Salinas, an experienced employment agency.

The chamber of commerce hopes that this agency will help to increase employment in the city while achieving the other goals.

Prior to this agreement the city paid the chamber $3,600 annually for promotion and information services. Another $6,000 was allocated, until this year, for the chamber to hold the annual Fourth of July parade. This year, a parade association, headed by former councilman Gerald McGrath, handled the annual affair.

community, promote political stability and to make Seaside a community that is conducive to business growth.

The group, according to Weiner, plans to rid Seaside of some of the apathy and divisiveness that has plagued the city.

Eye Glasses Are Needed

The month of August has been designated as New Eyes for the Needy month.

The Monterey Kiwanis Club is assisting in a drive to collect old, unused eye glasses to be processed by expert volunteers who test, classify and send these reusable glasses to medical missions and welfare agencies for immediate redistribution.

New Art Exhibit At City Hall

During August, the Seaside Art Commission is presenting an exhibit of watercolors by Jeanne Ocker with metal sculpture by Roger Fandel and clay sculpture by Douglas Chenelle at the Seaside City Hall.

Jeanne Ocker is a talented woman with many interests. Her hobby of making trinkets and paperweights by embedding flowers in resin has become a profitable business. To get perfect flowers she grows them from seed in an automatically controlled greenhouse. Despite the time her craftwork demands, Mrs. Ocker paints daily.

Since graduating from Pacific Grove High School she has studied art with many accomplished artists. As a member of the Pacific Grove Art Association she has exhibited her watercolors at their gallery, but this is her first one-man show.

Roger Fandel has worked with metal most of his life. As an instrument technician or foreman, he has worked all over the world. After an accident in Saudi Arabia, he dusted off his 1949 diploma from the Reppert School of Auctioneering and during his three-year convalescence, he was a practicing auctioneer. While auctioneering for numerous charities he became interested in metal sculpture. Now in his spare time he mounts miniature villages on driftwood.

Douglas Chenelle joined his first art class at the Balboa Park Art Gallery when he was ten. He studied art and ceramic sculpture at San Diego State College. Afterward he had his own gallery in Ocean Beach and exhibited his ceramics elsewhere in Southern California.

Last year Chenelle moved to Seaside and now has a ceramic-pottery gallery at the Whole Earth Craft Center on Cannery Row. He is showing some examples of his craft in the display case this month. This exhibit may be seen Monday through Friday from 8 to 5.

Meeting Is Announced

The Monterey Peninsula Concert Association annual membership meeting is being called for Tuesday, August 31, at 7:30 p.m. in the west wing conference room of Forest Hill Manor, Cibola Street and Forest Avenue, Pacific Grove. The purpose of the meeting is to elect directors for the 1971-1974 term and to proceed with the nomination of officers for the coming year.

Free Lecture Tomorrow

Tomorrow evening (Friday) at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chamber of Seaside City Hall, the Art Commission will present a free public lecture-demonstration on clay sculpture and pottery making by Douglas Chenelle of Seaside.

Chenelle, who moved here in 1970 from San Diego where he established himself as an artist-sculptor, has been interested in art as a career since he was 10 years old. It was then that he first joined an art class at Balboa Park Art Gallery in San Diego. After serving in the Navy, he studied art and ceramic sculpture at San Diego State College on a scholarship and exhibited his works in Old Town, Laguna Beach and operated his own gallery in Ocean Beach.

He was commissioned to do quite a few portrait sculpture pieces for interested people, including Mrs. William Bendix, John Hilton, Brownell McGraw and Jimmy Swinnerton. He is one of the newly appointed Art Commissioners in Seaside and is in charge of craft projects committee.

Besides being owner of a ceramic-pottery gallery at the Whole Earth Craft Center in Cannery Row, Chenelle has been assigned by the Commission to work on a proposed project, which involves sand-casting art, for the gray wall structure surrounding the Gateway Auto Center in Seaside.

Fishing Is Still Good

Our old friend, Bill of Sam's Fishing Fleet on Fisherman's Wharf, called again this week to tell us that they're catching big ones again.

He said that in this area a lot of mackerel are being caught.

Both the "Miss Monterey" and the "Sea Wolf" are making daily trips to Big Sur and Bill says they are striking big, in fact, a visitor from Oklahoma caught the prize, a 22 pound ling cod, one day last week. The day before that catch, the prize was a 12 pound ling.

Bill told us that a special charter from Fresno caught a whole boatload of fish.

So, if you want to get in on the rush, call Sam's for reservations. The number is 372-0577.

of the Division of Highways in San Luis Obispo and talked to Bud Horton, the public service man there. I asked for a map of the new freeway route, which he promptly sent. He also referred me to Al Jorge, the resident engineer on the project whose office is in Marina.

Jorge gave me a better map, which is pictured in this issue. You'll notice in studying the map that the main entrance to Fort Ord will be at an interchange somewhere between G igling Road and the present entrance at 2nd Street. The only other entrance will be an overcrossing at about 12th Street. I was under the impression that this section of freeway went all the way to Reservation Road in Marina, but it doesn't. As you can see, it will end just at the north boundary of Fort Ord Reservation at the edge of Marina. Jorge told me that this section of freeway will be completed in 20 months or by about February, 1973.

This will certainly eliminate the death trap that now exists in front of Fort Ord, but it will do little to relieve the congestion of traffic that backs up north of Marina where Highway 1 becomes a two-lane road again. I have travelled this stretch of highway two or three times a week for the last five years and every week the congestion gets worse. For a while I thought that it was caused by an accident on the road ahead, but lately I have discovered that there is just too much traffic for the road. I asked the engineer about the next section of freeway beyond Fort Ord and Marina and he said that is wasn't slated for completion until sometime in 1974. That is three years away and we will have to live with traffic jams that will continue to get worse and worse as more people discover the Monterey Peninsula. Every resident of Seaside and the other peninsula cities is spending tax dollars to bring more tourists here, yet we haven't adequate roads for them to travel in and out of the area by. Have you ever tried to go north on Highway 1 after a Laguna Seca Race day or after the Jazz Festival, forget it. You might as well try bucking the Oakland Raider line.

There must be some way that we can convince the "powers that be" in Sacramento that this particular stretch of freeway should be moved up on the list of priorities. They've been arguing for years about where to put a freeway over the remainder of Carmel Hill. While they continue to argue why doesn't the highway department allocate the money to complete the Marina-Castroville link and maybe by that time the good people of Carmel will have decided where they want their freeway. The short link between Marina and Castroville would really relieve the tie-ups because at that point the traffic divides. Half of it goes up highway 156 to the Highway 101, while the remainder follows Highway 1 up the coast to Santa Cruz and points in-between. The section the highway between Marina and Castroville, then, is the key to alleviate the congestion.

In the meantime it will be interesting to watch the progress of the construction on the Fort Ord link. They have quite a job ahead. As you can see on the map they have to relocate the SP tracks at a couple of places to make room for the freeway. This would also be a good time for the Army officials to move all of their gunnery ranges back on the Fort somewhere so that they aren't in front of the scenic waterfront. It would be nice to gaze on the tranquil waters of the Pacific without having to look through the sights of a gun and to have to listen to the sounds of firing while enjoying the scenery. The Piombo Construction Company and Dan Caputo Company, a joint venture of San Carlos, are contractors on this project which calls for construction of 4.3 miles of 6 lane divided freeway. The job includes two major interchanges, three freeway crossings and the relocation of 5.6 miles of Southern Pacific and U.S. Army railroad track. For about one-third of its length, the north and southbound roadways of the freeway will be widely separated. Provision for an ultimate 8 lane facility is an integral part of the design.

Now you know as much as I do about this interesting development, so it's off to the beach.

As I See It

By Mel Vercoe

Received nice letters from Senator Gravel and from the American Friends Service Committee thanking me for encouraging them. You may recall Senator Gravel (from Alaska) upset some of his fellow Senators by reading aloud in the Senate some of the still classified secret Pentagon documents. The Senator felt that it was imperative to our future that honesty and knowledge be placed ahead of deceit and pointless suppression of facts as they exist.

The American Friends Service Committee is a "corporate expression of Quaker faith and practice. It is rooted in the conviction that each human life is sacred, each man a child of God and that love, expressed through creative action, can overcome hatred, prejudice and fear. To that end, the Committee undertakes programs of relief, service and education, ministering to both the physical and spiritual needs of men. Its work is made possible by the generous cooperation of thousands of concerned persons of all faiths."

That was not a free commercial, but rather a very good description of an organization that is completely unselfish in its efforts to help humanity. Incidentally, Presi-

Steve Ross Reports

by Steve Ross
Seaside City Councilman

The subject I am dealing with this week is one that I would just as soon forget. But it is one that I feel all citizens of Seaside should be aware of. This is an issue of vital importance to my constituents, to the democratic system of government and to those of us who serve the public through the election process.

The opinion presented here is not my own. What follows are excerpts from the state election code which were furnished to me by the city attorney and the state legislative counsel.

According to Clinton J. deWitt, Deputy Legislative Counsel for the State of California, a recount instituted at a municipal recall election prior to the time the city council is required to declare the results of the election does not postpone the time for such declaration.

Section 27517 of the Elections Code, says deWitt, requires the governing body of the city to meet on the first Tuesday after the recall election to canvass the returns and to declare the results the same as in a regular municipal election. The body shall declare elected the persons having the highest number of votes given for each office (Sec. 22932).

Section 22932 - Canvass of returns; installation of new officers; declaration of election; resolution reads as follows: "The governing body of the city shall meet at their usual place of meeting on the first Tuesday after the election to canvass the returns and to install the newly elected officers. The body shall declare elected the persons having the highest number of votes for each office. Upon the completion of the canvass and before installing the new officers, the body shall pass a resolution reciting the fact of the election and such other matters as are enumerated in Section 22933. Issuance of a declaration of election is merely a formality; it is merely certificate commemorating event that has already occurred. Thus, where election is held, prevailing candidate is elected on day of election, not on day election results are officially declared."

There are times when a public servant must make decisions which break their heart. I know my move at the recent city council meeting broke mine. One of the most painful decisions that I have ever made was the motion to remove my fellow city councilmen from office. But, in my opinion, for their protection from a legal standpoint and for the protection of our city as a whole, there was no other choice. This was my understanding of the law as it now stands. I hope you understand.

May God keep us all together.

dent Nixon made good use of his Quaker background during his campaign, but sometime between the time the election booths were closed in November 1968 and the next morning some dreadful transformation must have overtaken our President and Quakers have repeatedly tried to find out how Mr. Nixon is able to justify three more years of war, plus Cambodia and Laos, when he could have ended the war the day he took office. So far he has not found it convenient to explain this to them or to anyone else.

But the American Friends Service Committee works on and a hungry or suffering child in need of help is the same to them whether his parents came from Hanoi or Saigon or Kenya or New York City.

Then on the other side of the ledger we have others -- men who find the war justifiable because the side we are not helping has been called communistic or because they are far less interested in human lives apparently than in following political party directives. I get letters from them, too. Dean Rusk, for example, answered a rather critical letter of mine a couple weeks ago and was so shook up he had started to tear the envelope in two, then decided to mail it rather than waste the stamp. Congressman Burt Talcott always answers politely, no matter what I write to him, but in my book he has got to go. In spite of all the disclosures of the deceit that led us into the war and all that we have learned about how its continuance war funds after December 31, and he voted in favor of a $21 billion appropriation for "procurement and research of is destroying our country, he still consistently votes funds to continue the war. On June 17 (HE8687), he voted against limiting funds for an ABM system that we know will be use-

Jazz Festival Honoring Kansas City

"Kansas City Revisited", a tribute to the jazz mecca of the 1930's and the musicians who made it so, will be the featured program for the Saturday afternoon concert, September 18, of the Fourteenth Annual Monterey Jazz Festival.

Artists set to perform in the unique program are: blues shouter, Big Joe Turner; pianist Mary Lou Williams, who recently came out of retirement to perform again; Big Jay McShann, famed Kansas City pianist; blind vocalist, Al Hibbler; trumpet artist, Harry "Sweet" Edison; the Jesse Price Blues Band and violinist, Claude Williams. Other artists from the Kansas City Jazz heritage are also being considered.

The Monterey Jazz Festival

September 17, 18, 19 is held in the 7000-seat outdoor arena on the Monterey County Fairgrounds. It consists of five concerts, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings and Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

"Kansas City played a very important role in the evolution of jazz," according to Jimmy Lyons, founder and general manager of the Monterey Jazz Festival. "We plan to recreate some of that old Kansas City excitement on our stage at Monterey."

During the 1930's it is estimated that there were more than 50 jazz clubs in Kansas City. Some of them never closed and musicians were attracted to the city from around the U. S. The jazz played there was rooted in the blues but was known for a warmth and verve that made it singularly "Kansas City style."

Ross Russell, long-time jazz chronicler who has recently written a book on Kansas City jazz, will act as master of ceremonies for the Saturday afternoon program.

Other artists already announced for the Monterey Jazz Festival are: Carmen McRae, Sarah Vaughan, Erroll Gar-

YWCA Classes Announced

The summer months have been a period of active planning for the Monterey Peninsula YWCA and their program-planning chairman, Dr. Margaret Bennett.

Through long hours of hard work, Dr. Bennett has arranged for an increased range of classes and group meetings. Materials on the proposed YWCA program, subject to demand expressed both in the Association of the Monterey Peninsula booth at the county fair and by mail, will span all ages. There will be a program intended to appeal to girls nine to twelve, to teenagers, to Y-wives and to adults in general.

For the youngest group, the suggested classes include ballet and modern jazz dance, marionettes, ceramics, making tray favors for hospitals, knitting and baton twirling. Y-teens, it is proposed, may have a choice of the same activities plus chorus and guitar.

For Y-wives and other adults, there will be armchair travel talks, folk dancing, "walk and talk" trips, nutrition and cooking, sewing, bridge at three levels, candle making, jazz dancing, English for the foreign born, Spanish, yoga, slimastics, modern ballet and income tax returns.

Other craft classes proposed include creative stitching and macrame, decoupage, jewelry design, drawing painting and ceramics.

Volunteers interested in teaching any of these classes or in any other YWCA activities are asked to telephone 624-3506 for an interview either at the YWCA office or at the County Fair.

The 58 counties' share was $1,480,227 and the cities' share totaled $6,287,940.

This distribution represents 30 percent of the revenue deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund during the month of June 1971, less the State's administrative costs of $23,163.

Other peninsula cities receiving funds were: Carmel - $3,318.38; Pacific Grove - $4,172.77; Del Rey Oaks - $909.20; Monterey - $14,916.40 and San Diego - $373.35.

Black History Exhibit at State Fair

The African and Afro-American Cultural Exhibit Association, Inc., will open the pages of the history of black people to fair visitors this year during the California State Exposition and Fair, August 20 through September 8.

"Blackology", the study of blackness, is the theme of Exhibit '71, set for Building 5 of the Expo Center complex. Exhibit '71 will embrace the study of black people, their history, culture and achievements.

A combination of African and Afro-American artifacts, pictorial information, sculpture, mannequins, art and a reading section will make up this informative display.

Directory Being Revised

The Salinas Chamber of Commerce is currently revising its "Industrial Directory for Salinas & Monterey County" according to executive vice-president Les Dabritz.

Dabritz said that he plans for the 1971-72 edition of the county-wide publication to be available by October 1. Last year the chamber published an expanded version of the directory which includes the name and addresses of industrial firms, telephone number, location, number of employees, products, name of manager and owner. In addition, the directory lists information about growers and shippers.

The publication also has been enlarged to include statistical data about industry and general information about Salinas and the county.

Dabritz said that there is no charge for firms to be listed in the directory.

Dean Wagoner, chairman of the Chamber's Industrial Development Committee, stated: "This directory has become a valuable tool to persons considering investing in Salinas and the county. It has also proven to be most useful to firms in our county desiring to conduct business with other industrial companies."

Work of Noted Local Artist On Display

During the month of August, the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art will feature a retrospective exhibition of the painting and graphics of Irene Lagorio, internationally noted Carmel artist.

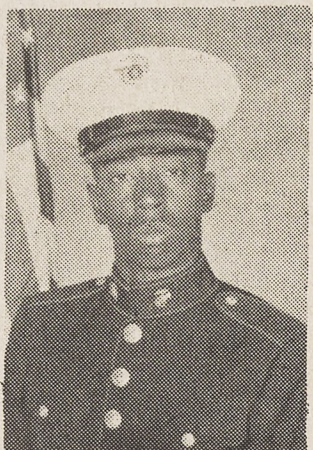

Winner of the Museum's 1971 Monterey County Competitive for her painting, "Tiger, Tiger, Burning Bright", Miss Lagorio will present 25 years work represented by 28 paintings and 28 graphics, six of which have never been shown before. These reflect her current concern in ecology.

In the collection are symbolic compositions which express her interest and research in evolution and the history of civilization. She states that a strong horizontal line seems to be the thread of continuity in all her works.

Some of her earlier works were inspired by African masks she saw in a Paris gallery. "The Night of Orion" and other paintings reflect interest in astronomy and Greek mythology. Siennese jewel paintings she viewed in Italy influenced her colorful collages.

Among the graphics are a group from "The Open Zoo - A Bestiary" the second verse-visual collaboration of Miss Lagorio and the poet, Dennis Francis.

One of the last of the Medevalists, Miss Lagorio feels she must do everything if it is to be her own creation. Like early primitives she does everything from selecting the lumber, building the stretchers, sizing and sealing the

Book Tells About Hearts

"You and your Heart," a new 16-page booklet filled with basic facts about the heart in health and disease, is available from the Central Mission Trails Heart Association.

Using cartoons and simple diagrams in red and black, the booklet defines many technical terms.

It gives advice about reducing the risk of heart attack and how to recognize the early warning signs and what immediate steps to take to increase the chance of survival, should a heart attack occur.

Copies can be obtained without charge by writing to the Heart Association, 541-A South Main Street, Salinas 93901. Ask for "You and Your Heart."

The booklet explains how the heart and blood vessel system works, what goes wrong to bring on heart attack and stroke and what roles are played by hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure.

A special section describes ways to help prevent heart attack--what to eat and what to avoid; how to determine proper body weight and maintain it; what kinds of exercise are beneficial if done regularly and how tension and cigarette smoking can affect the circulatory system.

canvas, to hanging her own show. For this show, Miss Lagorio has also prepared cards explaining the symbolism of each painting.

She is a fellow in the International Institute of Arts and Letters, Director of the Art Association Foundation and a member of the Board of Directors of the Carmel Art Association.

Help Our POW/MIA's

It is widely publicized that the plight of the American Prisoners of War and Missing in Action in Southeast Asia is very serious.

In action to help these men, Mrs. Ed Reinecke, wife of the California Lieutenant Governor is involved in a campaign to make the world and North Vietnam aware of our intense concern for them.

One of the best ways to show this, Mrs. Reinecke says, is to send mail to North Vietnam requesting the humane treatment and release of these men.

The appeal, says Mrs. Reinecke, "is specifically to the women of our state. I hope that many thousands will join in this effort to the women of North Vietnam."

Mrs. Reinecke hopes that our women readers will fill out the coupon below and mail it to the "Write Hanoi" office in Carmichael, California.

Arrangements are under way for the delivery of these coupons to the wives of Hanoi and Russian governments.

WOMEN'S APPEAL FOR PRISONERS OF WAR & MISSING IN ACTION

We, the women of California, urgently plead with you for the immediate release of our American men who are detaining as Prisoners of War. We also urgently request information on those of our men who are missing in action.

No Mormon Chapel Here, Britons Say

The local council in Basingstoke, England, a southern England town, have refused permission to the American-based Mormon church to build a chapel in the town because it claimed the church fosters racial prejudice.

When asked to comment on the incident, American church officials of the Mormon hierarchy said they did not have the slightest idea of what the council was talking about.

We listen. We care. We're Free. 24 hrs. Suicide Prevention Center call 373-0713.

TIPS ON CAR CARE

Does Your Car Have A Mind Of Its Own?

Have you ever had the feeling that your car is going its own way? Does it tend to wander in a crosswind or fishtail at high speeds or on turns?

If you have had these experiences and have not looked for the cause, you may be flirting with serious trouble. Modern cars are designed to give quick, sure steering response. Any sign of handling instability is a pretty sure indication that something is wrong.

Many motorists ignore minor car handling problems because they become accustomed to them. Or they blame the wind or the road surface. According to B.F. Goodrich car care experts, lack of handling stability is usually due to mechanical problems.

Perhaps the biggest cause of poor driving control is misalignment of the front wheels. Many drivers do not realize that the wheels and steering mechanism must be adjusted from time to time to correct wear and damage from the jolts of road bumps.

Besides affecting your steering and handling, a poorly maintained front end can cause rapid and abnormal tire wear. In fact, you can often tell when you need front end work by examining your tires.

Intermittent cupping of the tread indicates loose, worn or damaged parts in the steering and suspension systems. Tread worn off one side of the tire indicates that the camber angle of the wheel is off. Wear on only part of the tread with a feathered edge along the wear line indicates excessive toe-in of the wheels.

Too low a tire pressure is another cause of poor driving control

NOTICE OF FILING APPLICATION FOR INCORPORATION FOR INTRASTATE TRADES

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company on August 6, 1971 filed with the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California an application, numbered 52794, for authority to increase certain intrastate rates and charges applicable to telephone service furnished within the State of California, in general terms, the proposed increases are as follows:

Basic exchange rates would be increased for both residential and business telephone service. For residence the increase would be $15 per main telephone, except that the line telephone service, where a reduction in the message allowance from 20 to 15 is proposed, a $3.00 increase is proposed per main business telephone.

For exchange service rates, the PBX trunk rates would be increased in the same proportion as main station rates.

The message unit charge for multi-message unit messages would be increased from $.047 to $.048 per unit. Coin and foreign exchange service message unit charges would not change.

The exchange message charge for measured service would be increased from $.047 to $.052 for other than foreign exchange and coin services. Exchange message charge for foreign exchange services would be increased from $.05 to $.055.

For intrastate message toll telephone service, evening operator-handled station-to-station initial period rates would be increased to conform with the day rates, with a $5.00 minimum initial period rate. The minimum initial period rate for residential calls would be $1.00. For all types of toll calls, except toll, the minimum initial period rate for customer-dial calls would be increased to the nearest cent.

Service connection charges would be increased for new and additional service, moves of customer's telephone sets, certain changes of customer's sets and key telephone system services, and in place connection charges. The charge for initial connection of a residence
